JULY 2009

Golf Industry Show General Sessions

Before hitting the trade show floor, join your colleagues for two insightful presentations that will benefit you regardless of your position in the golf course and club management industries. Designed to inspire, humor and provoke thought, these events offer a valuable resource and networking opportunity. These joint sessions are open to all attendees, including exhibitors and distributors.

Dr. Brian Little
Personalities in the Workplace

Wednesday, Feb. 3, 8 – 9 am

Dr. Brian Little, Distinguished Research Professor Emeritus at Carleton College, shares how human flourishing depends on the sustainable pursuit of personal projects. These personal projects can be tedious or easy, deeply private or joyously communal. They may be the route through which we inadvertently discover happiness, and they can also be the vehicle for our own self destruction. More.

Chris Gardner
Start Where You Are

Thursday, Feb. 4, 8 – 9 am

Christopher Gardner, owner and CEO of the brokerage firm Gardner Rich LLC, is the author of the autobiography, "The Pursuit of Happiness." He is also the inspiration for the acclaimed movie with the same title, starring Will Smith. The movie is the No. 2 all-time domestic grossing drama. Gardner has written a second book, "Start Where You Are: Life Lessons in Getting from Where You Are to Where You Want to Be." More.
